Each artist must set his/her own fair market price for each piece submitted.

- The opening bid will be 33% of the price set by the artist (rounded up to the nearest bid increment).
 - For example, if the market value is $1,200, the opening bid announced by the Auctioneer will be $400.
 - It is imperative that each artist set a REASONABLE market price for his or her work. As these auctions are fundraisers for the Club, 50% of the selling price goes to the Club.
 - There will be NO protective reserves other than the opening bid established by the artists' market price.
 - For each artwork you submit, please try to secure at least one potential bidder from your list of patrons and supporters.

On the submission form, you will see three following consent options.

1 – Consent to allow the auctioneer to sell your art below the opening bid with discretion.

Artists will still receive credit for 50% of the agreed minimum bid if this occurs.

2 - Artist have the option to donate all of the proceeds from the sale of their work to support Salmagundi.

3 - Artists whose work does not sell may offer it for a Second Chance Sale item to be listed on Salmagundi's Artsy for three weeks following the auction. Works listed on Artsy will list the minimum bid (+ buyer's premium) of the unsold work as an online "Buy Now" offering from April 26 – May 21. All unsold items must be collected by or may be donated to Salmagundi after May 21.

MARKETING AND SALES

We encourage all artists to notify collectors of the presence of their work in the Auctions. Successful strategies have included Instagram posting, mailings to customers with an image(s) of the Auction work(s) emails including an image informing clients and collectors of the upcoming Auctions and dates, and personal notes about the Auctions—again containing an image or two of work included in the Auction sales. Members who have done this have had much more success than those who have not. Also of great advantage is for members to bring friends and patrons to the live auction.
